MISS MARIE O'ROURKE

In Appreciation to the Retiring Personnel

One hundred eighty-three years of service to the school and students has earned the gratitude of years of graduates. Their influence is reflected in the community through businessmen, secretaries, and teachers. Whether her field be English, languages, counseling, or secretarial work, each has helped students face the challenge of the future. For their 183 years of service we dedicate the 1965 Echoes to these five retiring personnel: Miss Crawford, Mrs. Knox, Miss O'Rourke, Miss Ridgley, and Mrs. Thoman.

Superintendent of Warren City Schools

DR. SANFORD F. JAMESON

A pillar holding up the school system . . . always there to turn to . . . after eight years of work with Warren's only high school, we will soon be together at the crossroads for the last time.

Looking over the budget for the Warren School System is the assistant Superintendent of business affairs, Mr. O. A. Lovett.

Assistant Superitendent of curriculum, Mr. Wiley Garret, is discussing the courses of study for the school year.

Leadership provides for progress

Thinking about the importance of the documents concerning our nation's history is our principal Mr. Abe R. Keefer.

Aiding Mr. Keefer in helping run our school efficiently, are the Assistant Principals, Mr. Louis Swart and Mr. John Frehse.

Leraning the techniques behind the running of a school are the cadet principals, Mr. Monson and Mr. Keadle.

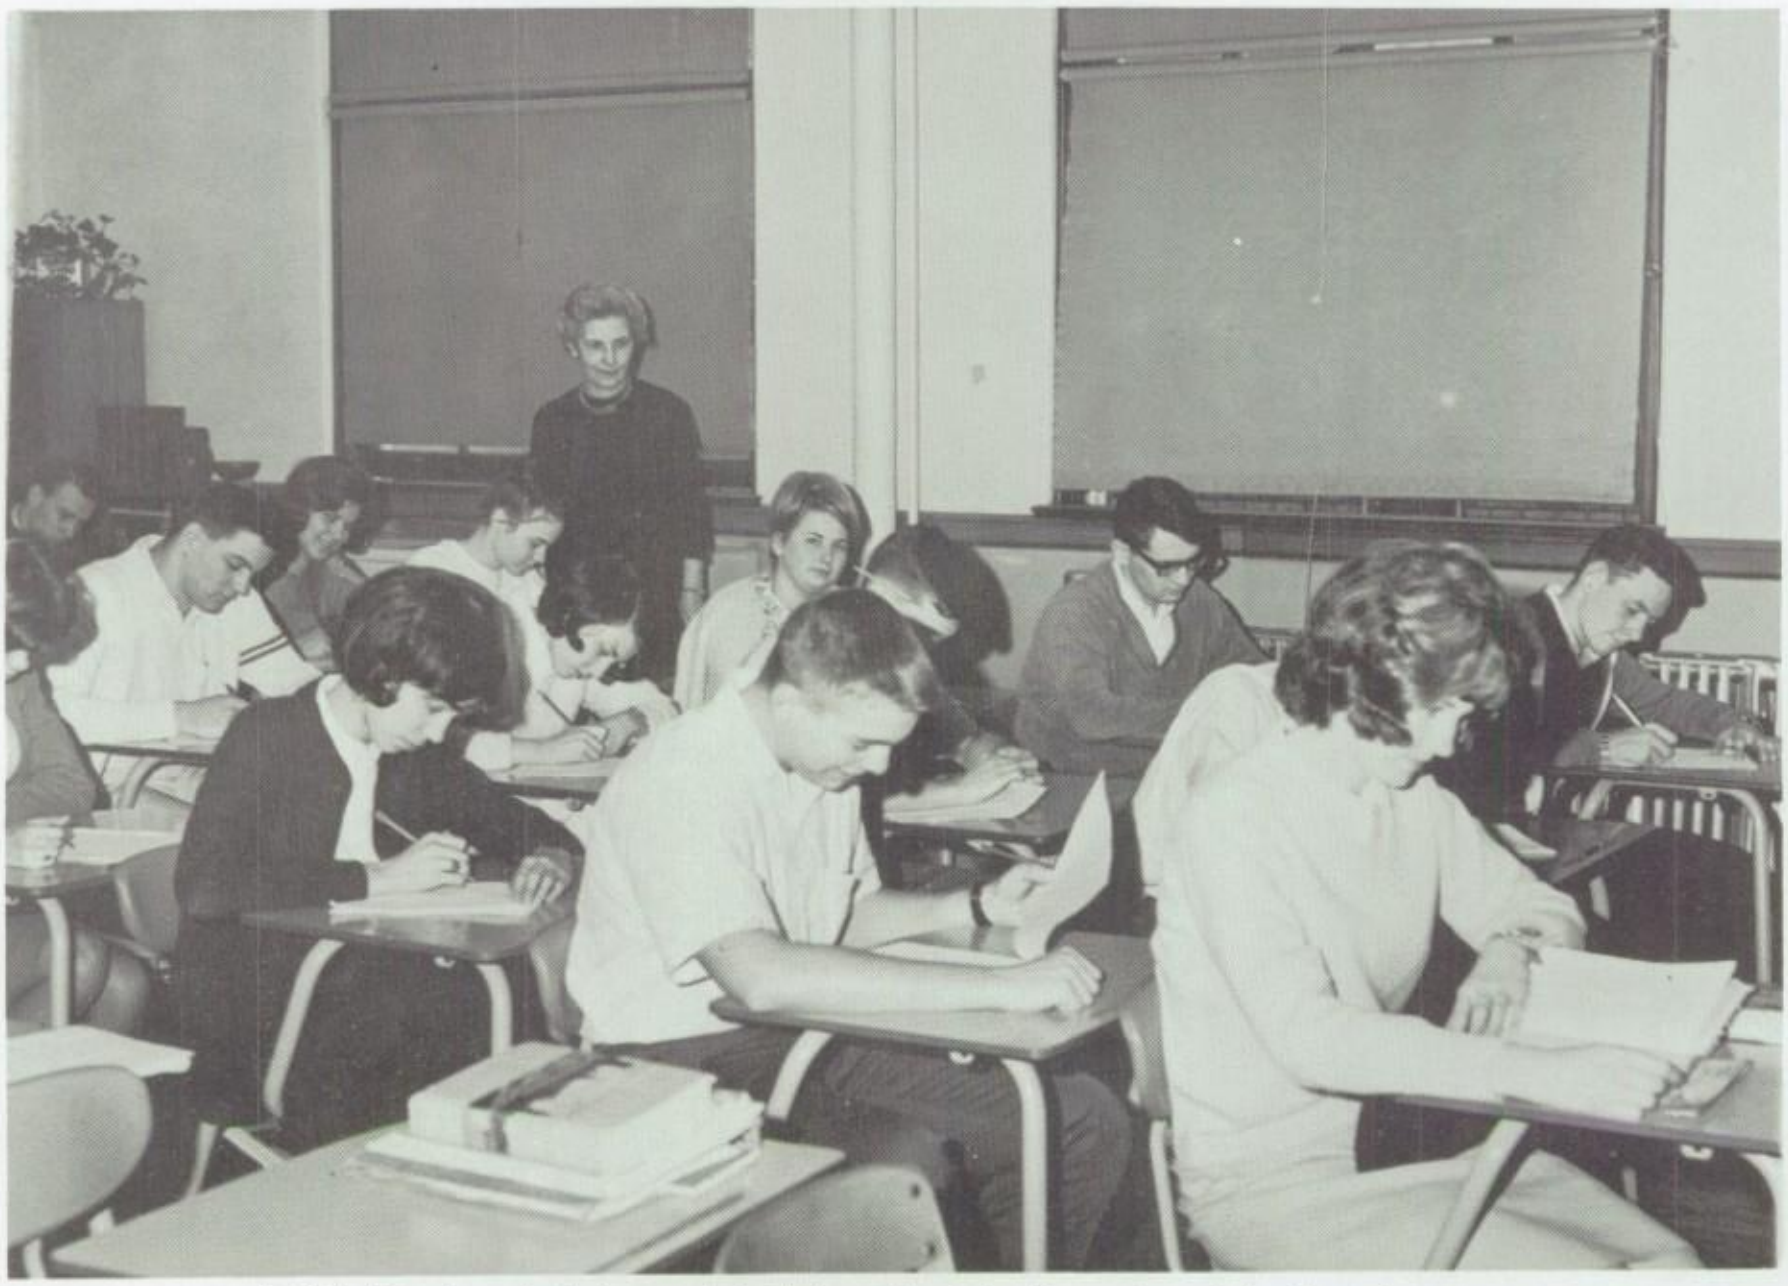
English Prepares Future Leaders



English Literature students conclude their study of the Romantic period with a class exam.

The English program at Harding is an appropriate background in literature, grammar and appreciation of the classical and romantic trends. Variety and specialization are offered in such courses as speech, journalism, and dramatics. Poise, public speaking, verbal fluency and control are all a part of speech. The classrooms are alive with activity, challenging the interests of everyone.

Preparation and expression are necessary accomplishments for literature and speech endeavors.

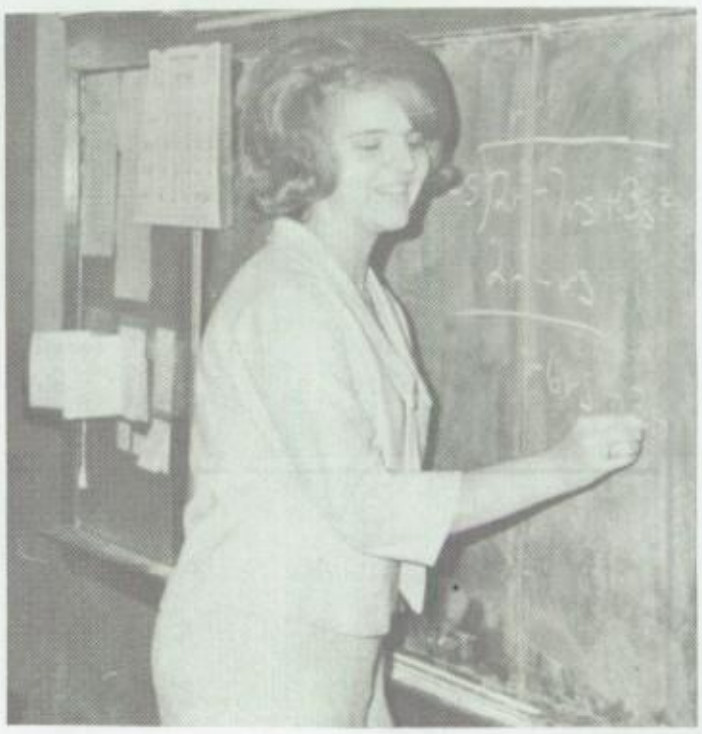
Characterizing the famous Lady and Lord MacBeth are Michael Grigsby and Fully Spain.

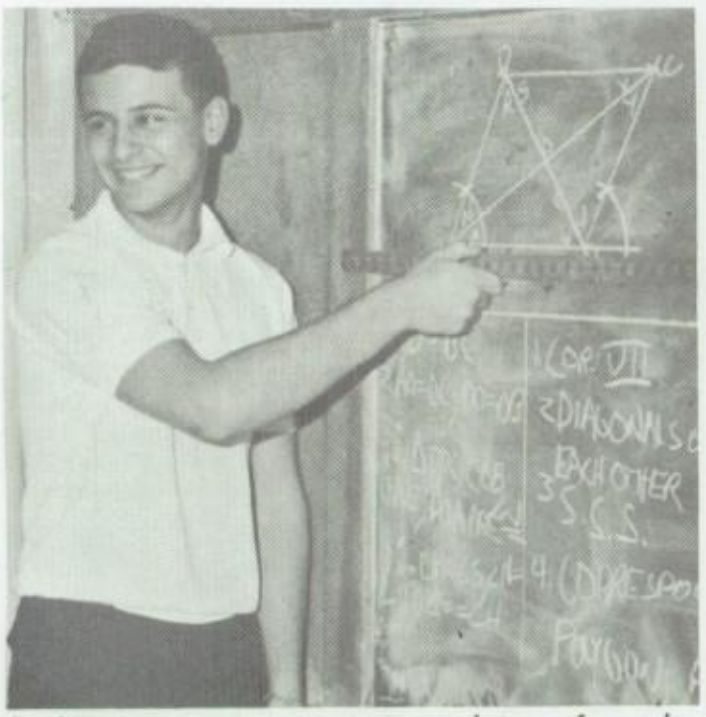
Tale of Two Cities inspires demonstration of a guillotine by Pat Dailey.

Enacting class plays and helping with scenery constructions are popular modes of promoting the individual expression and talent of each student.

A transit is studied by David Havill and Kathy Bellay.

Mathematics has taken a definite position in the race for future leaders of the space age. Closely related to the sciences, it has taken form in many popular courses of the curriculum. Trigonometry, geometry and algebra aid the student in relationship and reasoning in higher education.

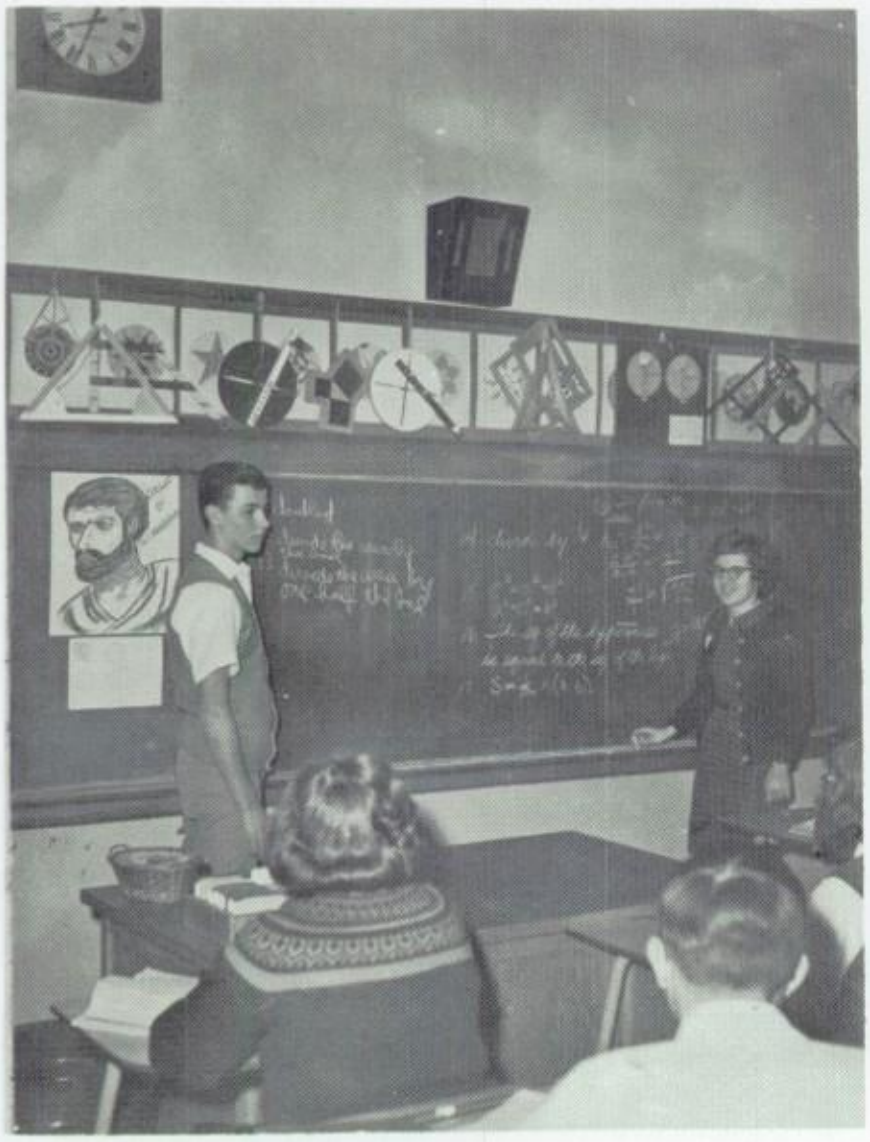




Sophomores strive to master laws of modern algebra.

Karen Lee explains algebra problem before class.

Explaining a geometry theorem is Harry Gentithes.



Dave Binko and Linda Bellan demonstrate solid theory.

Mathematics Challenges the Student

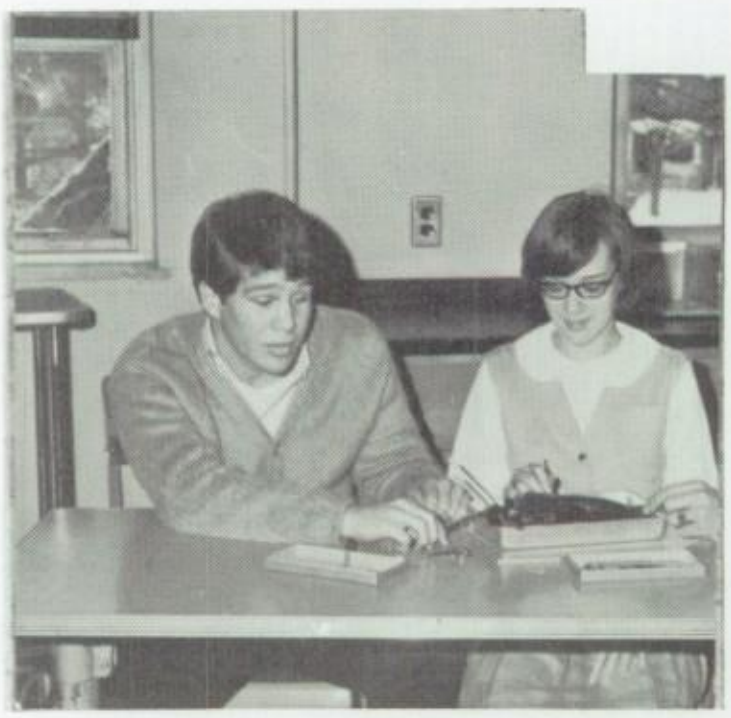
Seniors derive additional information concerning the realm of higher math by taking trigonometry at Harding.

Chemistry student, Jack Rantilla, works with electric outlet.

An asmusing project is shown by Ted Pleviak.

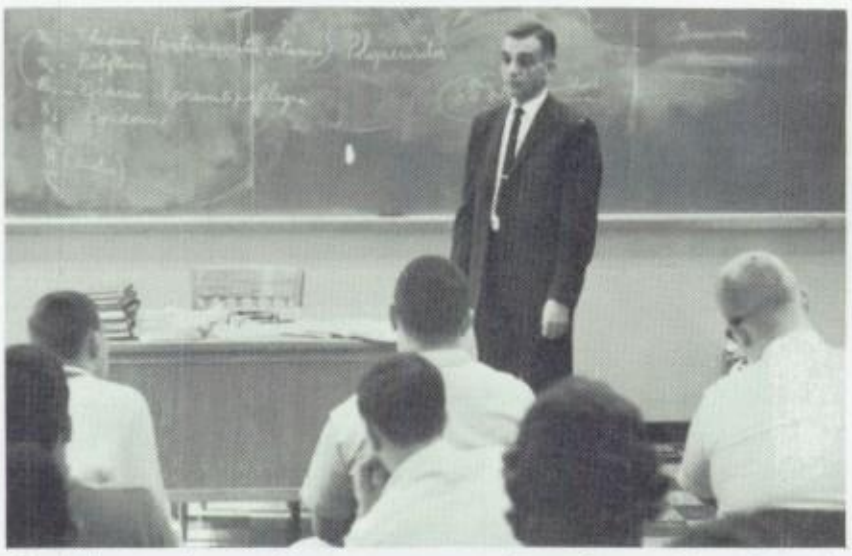
Microscopic studies help Allan Hassel and Steve Renderknecht.

Science is an increasingly advancing program. Accelerating students in the basic technology of biology, physics, chemistry, botany and physiology commenced only recently with Sputnik and the space era. The struggle for position in the future has necessitated constant competition among students in priority of the sciences.



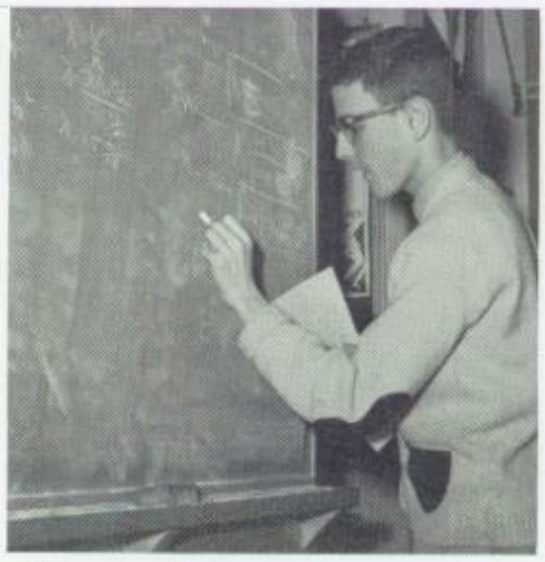
Zoology dissections involve Larry Salvato and Sue Kemp.

Biology students apply chemistry in class.



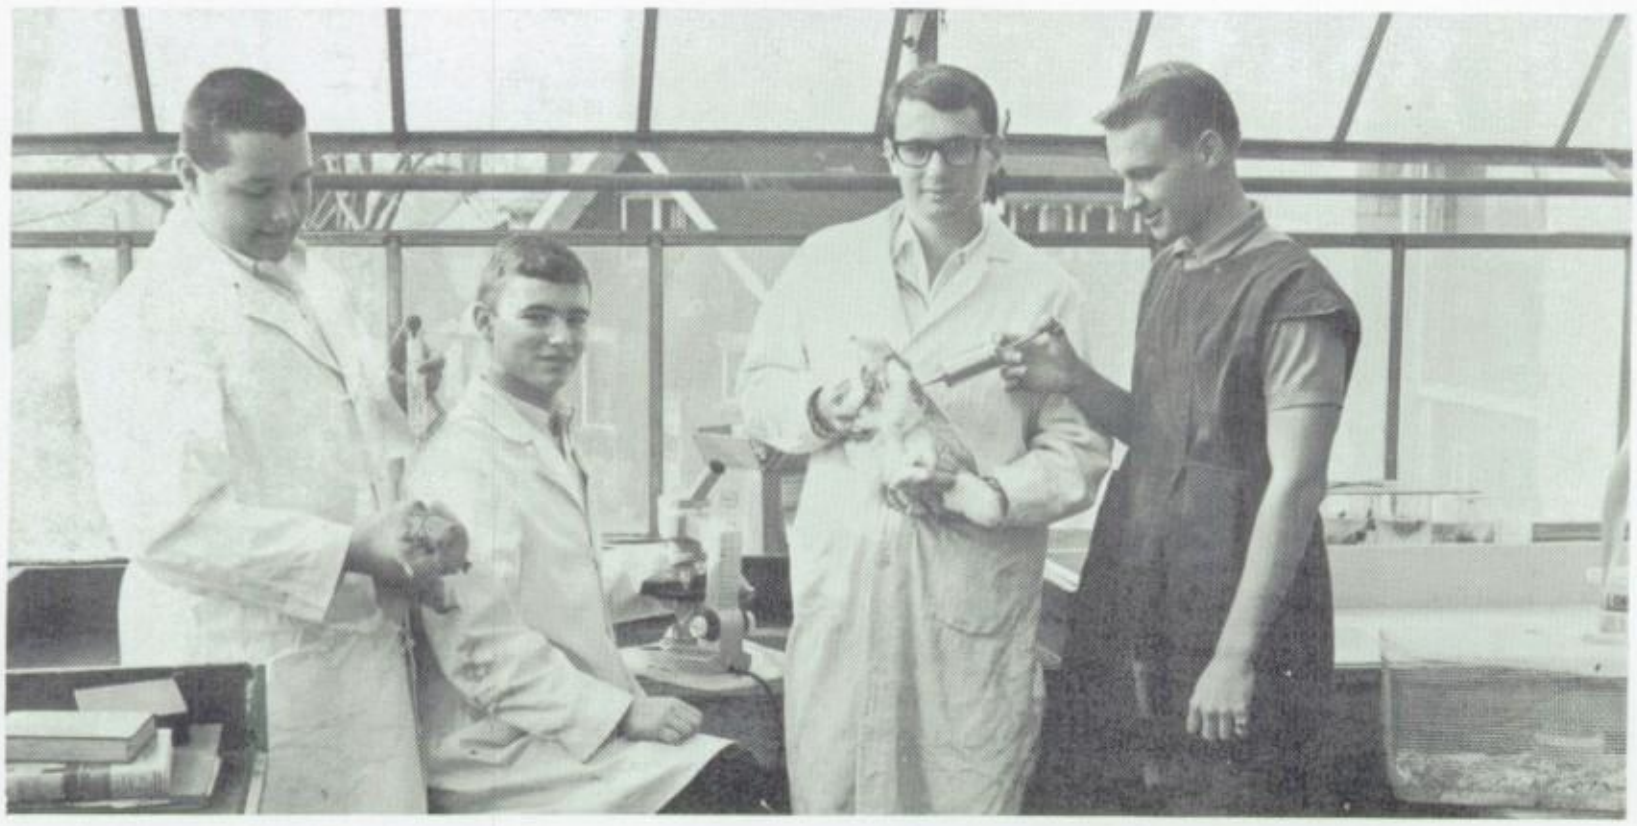
Physiology classes learn vitamin data from Mr. Koppel.

Explaining heart dissection is Mr. Klein.



Physics problems are done by Jack Heller.

Space Age Spurs Science



Biology students Jack Rumbaugh, Jerry Silvers, Dan DeSantis and Cliff Amos work in the green house.

Current event situations are explored by Civics students Tom Gairy and David Havill.

World History student, Craig Brewster, explains the advancement of the Roman Empire.

Social Sciences are an outlet for individualism in future leaders. World History, American History and Civics and Problems are required courses at Harding in order to provide each student with an education in his own history

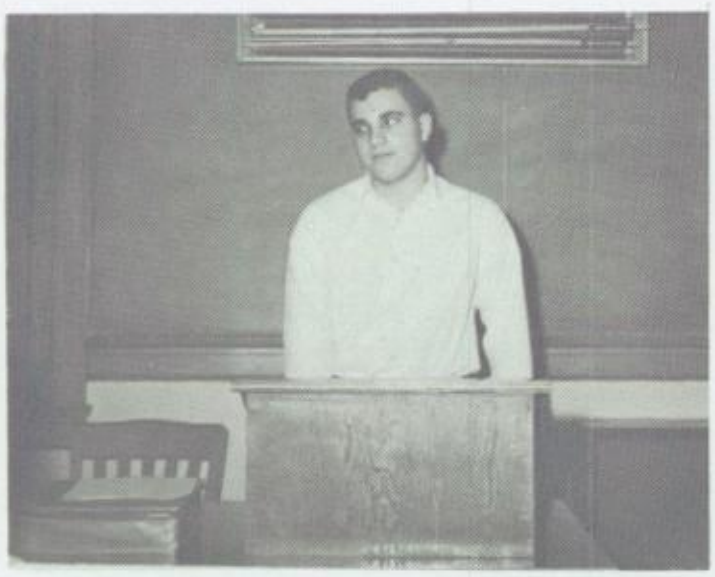
The advantages of personal instruction promote Mr. Stocz's theory of confidence and participation in class.

Informal discussions supplement text studies in Mr. Beard's Civics classes.

and government. Current events and a historical background are part of each students course. An increasing tendency toward informal environments for discussion and debate exemplify many social study classes today.

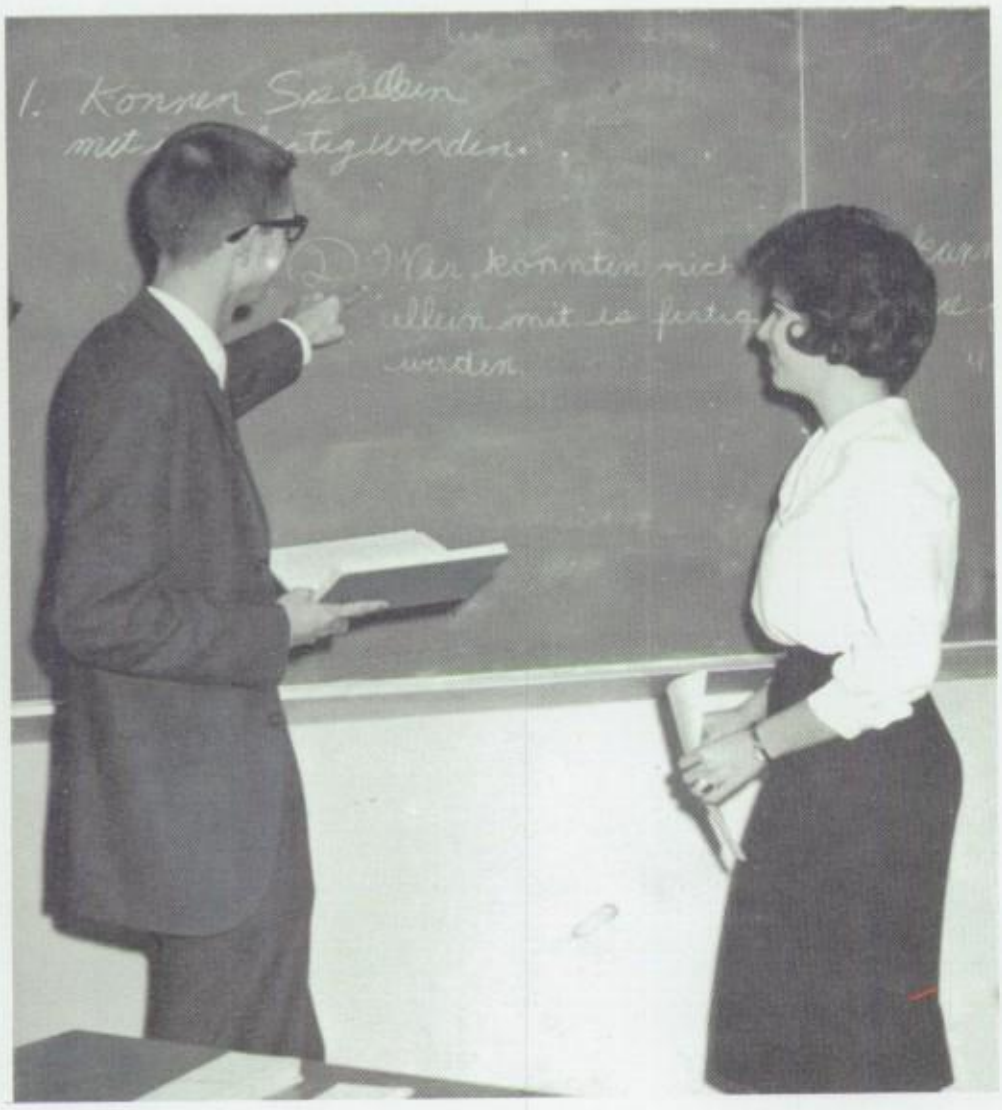


Impromtu class recitation is given by U. S. History student.

Sociology students Mike Borsic and Jayne Jones explain a familiar poster during class discussions.

The foreign language department of Harding has recently expanded its curriculum to provide for German classes as well as French, Latin, and Spanish. A broadened culture program has increased the desire for international communication and is evident in the growing number of fourth year students annually. A French Club excusion this fall to Montreal, Canada, proved an invaluable experience for all who went. The Mardi Gras, sponsored by French and Spanish Clubs was highlighted by entertainment and costumed couples, all enjoying the "Masquerade Magic."

French students Darrel Miller and Linda Diamondstein display the Eiffel Tower, a popular French landmark.



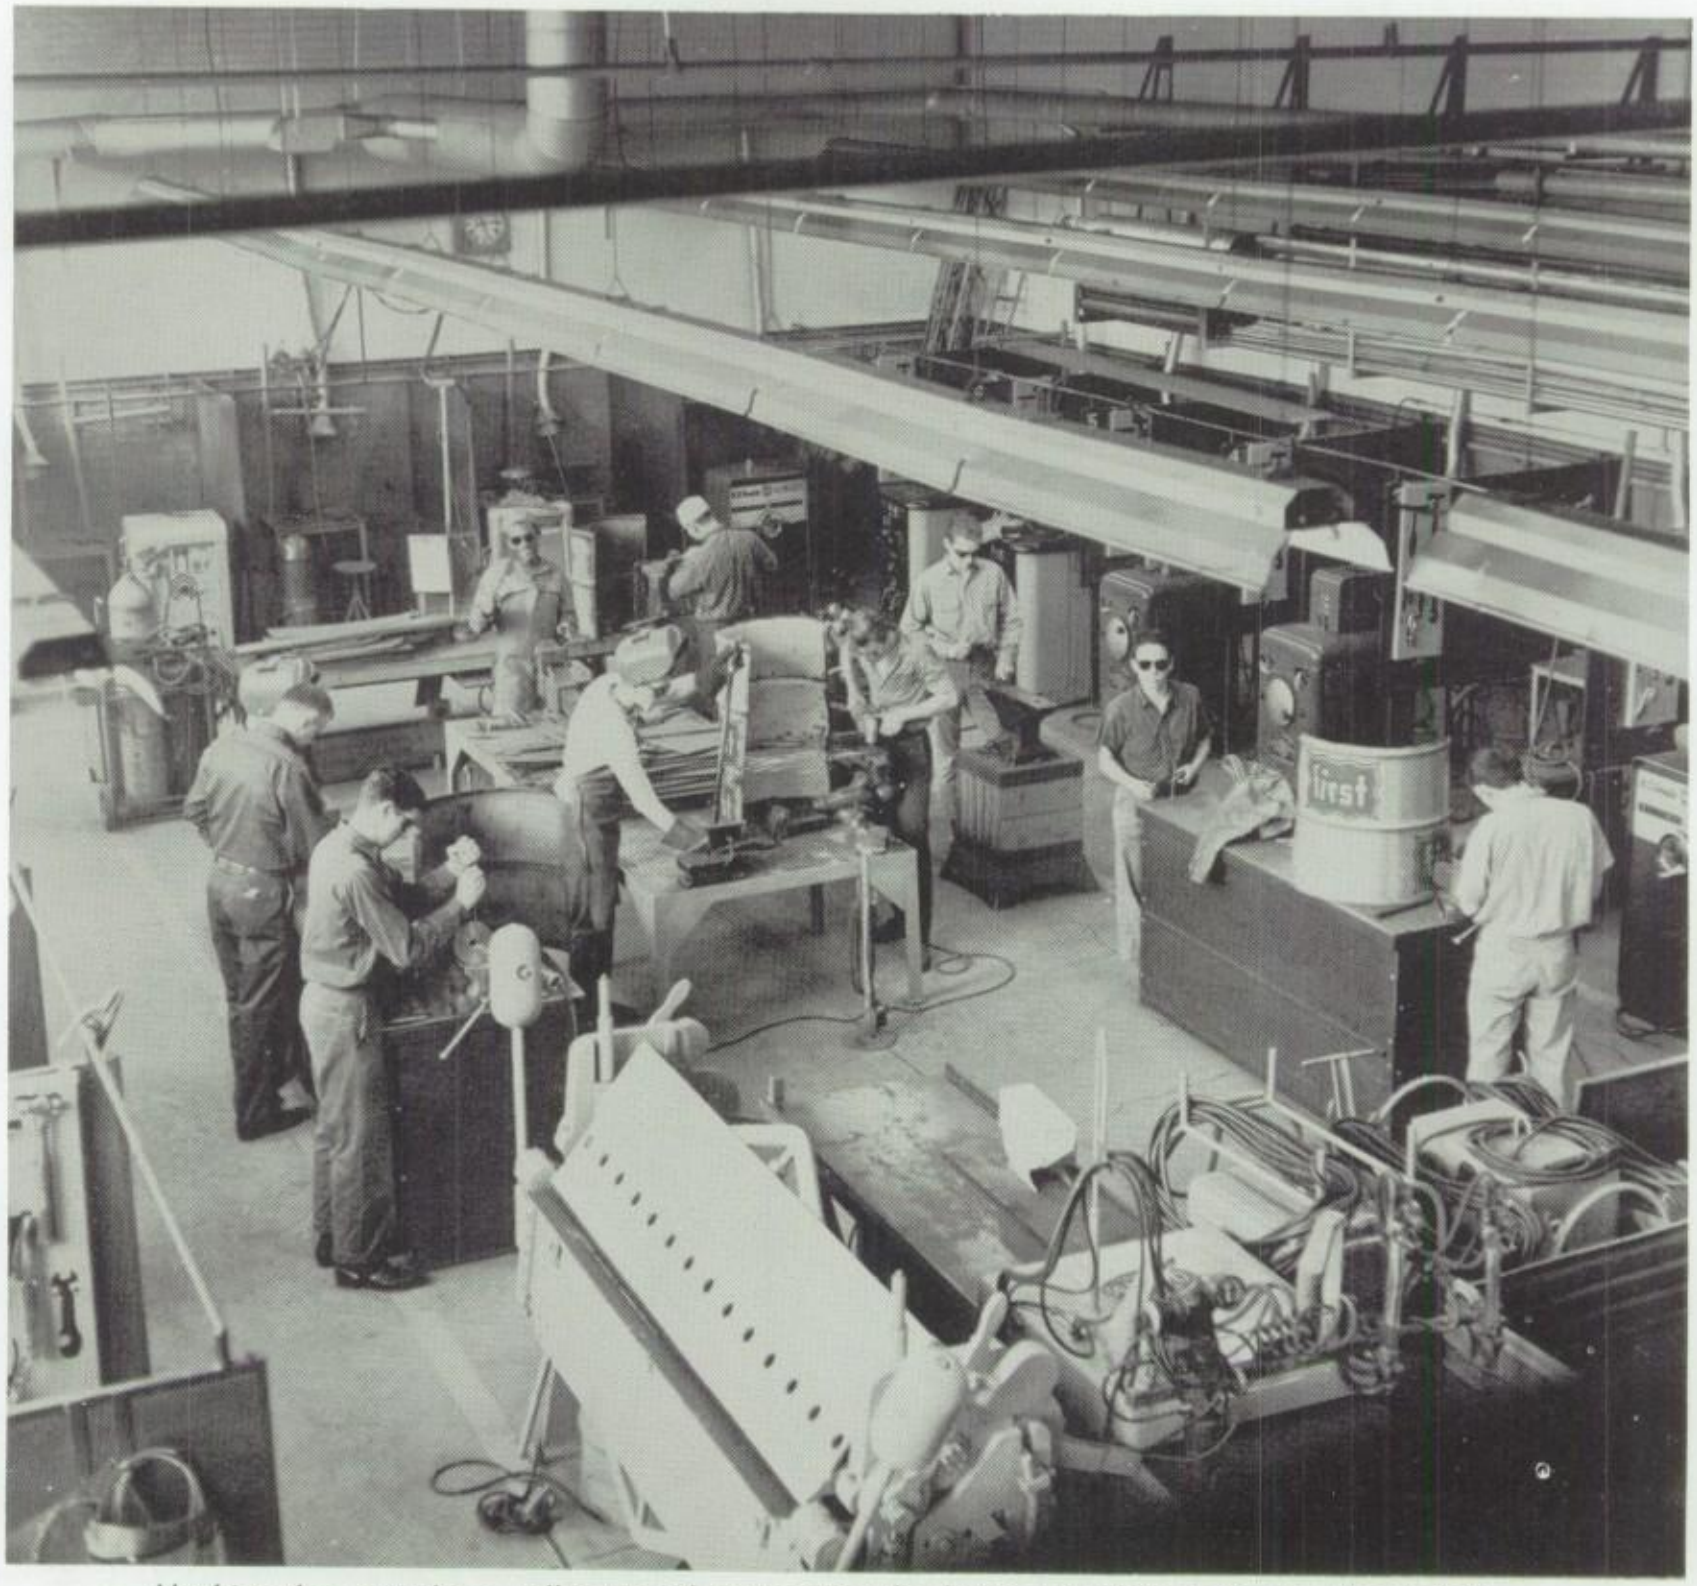
Margie Bauman is assisted in German grammar.

French linguists do recitation at board.

Latin students give class report.

Phyllis Goodman displays Spanish work.

Two students comprise the Spanish IV class.

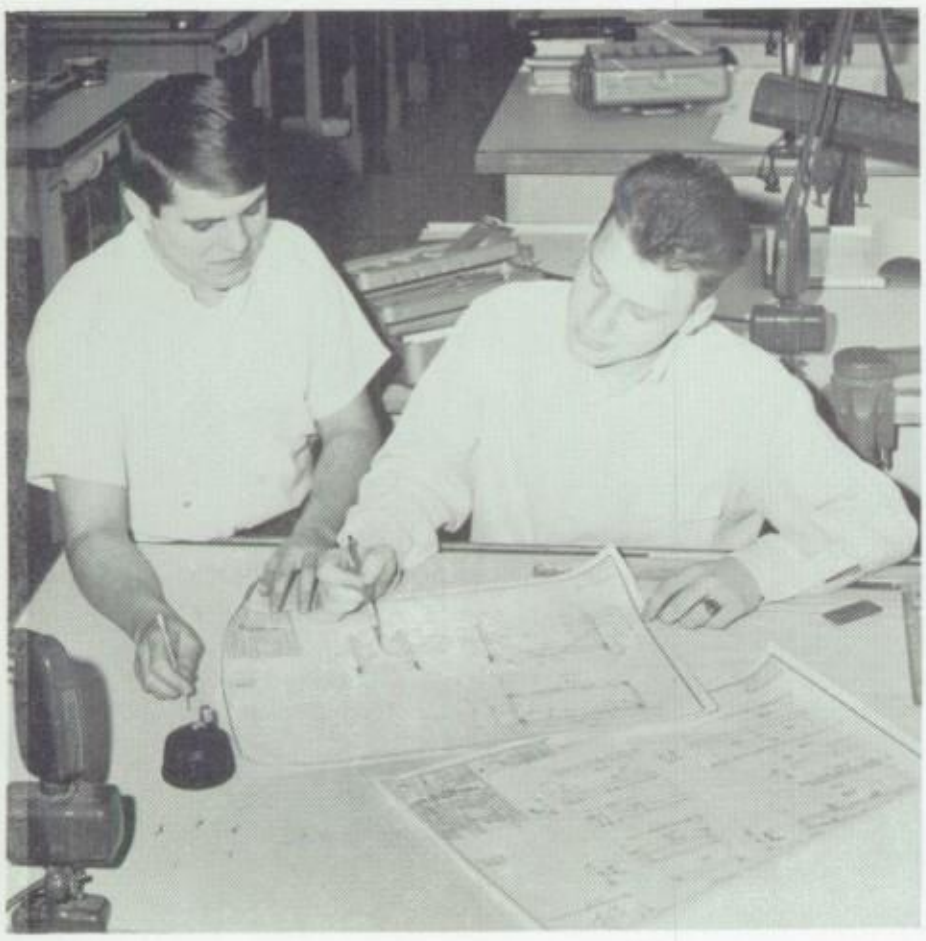


Machine shop provides a well equipped environment for future specialists in the vocational field.

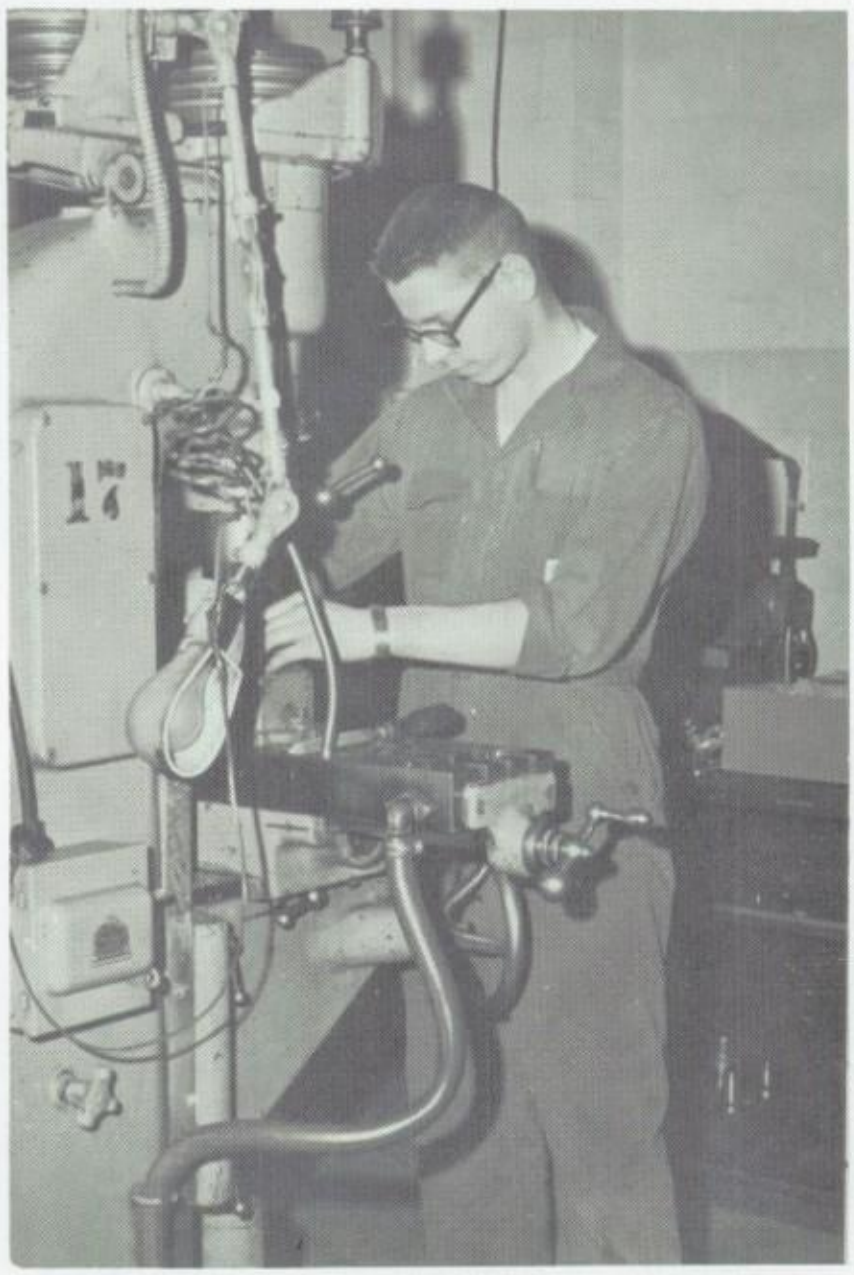
Vocational Shop Trains Boys

Shop display is an excellent exhibit of handiwork.

Boys are given first hand insight into auto mechanics.



Electric technology is skilled by Bud Jenkins and Rich Nochta.



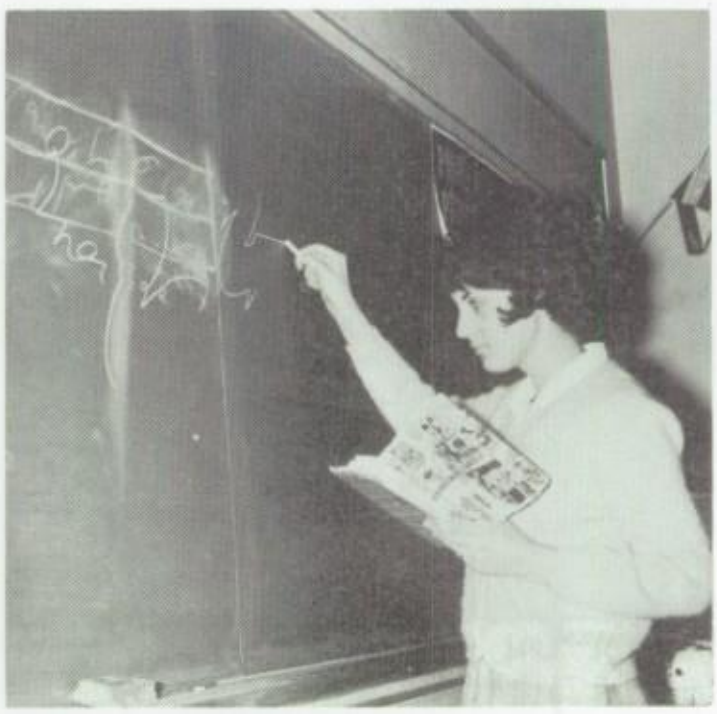
Our vocational shops are an integral part of school life. These courses furnish the technical and mechanical knowledge necessary in our space age. New equipment and goals provide the incentive which gave our school state honors in this field. Participation in school activities is another school service provided by the shops.

Students enjoy the fascinations of business machinery and learn to apply themselves with speed and efficiency in Business Education. Bookkeeping, shorthand and transcription, and typing classes provide advanced preparation for the student who desires it.

Dictation broadcast through earphones aids shorthand practice.

Practice and Application

Business students combine typing and transcription.



Practicing shorthand outlines is Theresa Perri.

Develop Business Leaders

Working intently on shorthand is Elaine Wilson.

Familiarizing themselves with business machines, Office Practice students prepare for careers in business.

Chefery is an increasingly opportune vocation.

Mrs. Hill aids in the development of cooking skills.

Home Ec Promotes Domestic Skill

A highly individual skill, sewing is a definite asset to the capable seamstress.

Practical Nursing opens the future to interested Harding girls. This course provides technical and practical experience in the field of medicine. After graduation these girls will be staffing our local hospitals.

Nursing classes learn about the parts of a human body.

Applying newly learned skills is required routine.

Listening to class discussions is a necessity.

Music appreciationists are Connie Hipple and Dan DeSantis.

John Baca finishes a portrait of Becky Cantelmo.

Music and art appreciation are impressed upon the students as guest teachers add to the class room activities.

The combined efforts of the orchestra and A Cappella provide a delightful arrangement of music talents.

The girls' physical education classes revolve around active sports and exercises and verbal instruction.

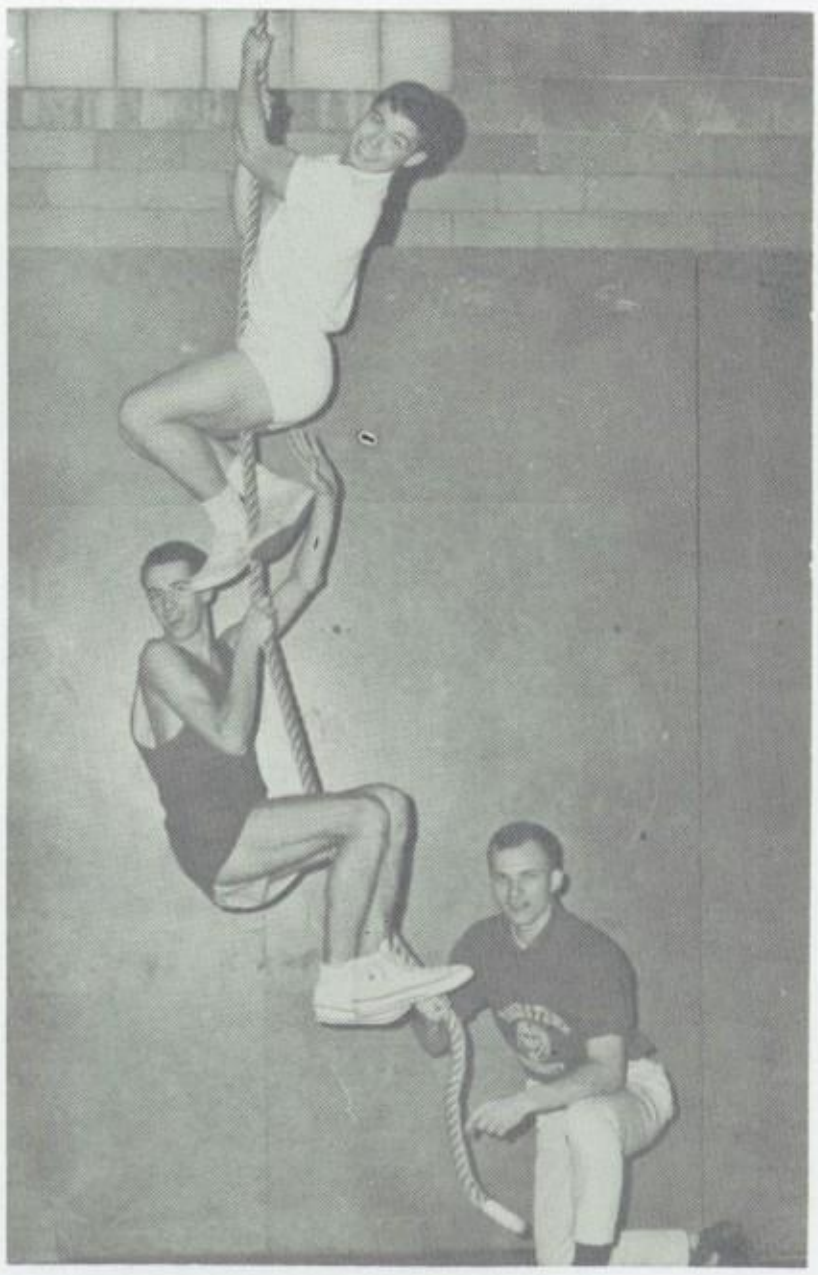
Daily Activities Involve Many

The daily hustle which typifies the excitement of the Harding cirriculum is is interrupted by lunch room activities.

Tom Chrisopolis and Steve Ashiolis do research.

Monitors, Emmanuel Kladitis and Barb Capito find work fun.

Physical Education for both sexes has recently been advocated and accepted in accord with the Kennedy administration. The sights and sounds of students in the classroom, in the hall or employing library or cafeteria facilities become synonomous with the underclassmen and graduating seniors annually.



Gymnastics are the popular and rewarding activities of Joe Spahr, Don Sims and John Homolitis.

Journalism editors display a finished Highlife.

Drafted comic editors of the journalism staff, Bill Totterdale and Bob Capan wish all a happy vacation.

With dignity, Louis Schwartz takes the oath of the student body president for the 1964-65 school year. Administering the oath is Abe R. Keefer, principal.

Student government is practiced bi-monthly by elected homeroom representatives. Current school problems are main issues of discussion. Community projects such as the United Appeal drive are also supported by vigorous campaigns. An efficient monitor system is carried on by the council and scholarships are awarded to outstanding members at the annual luncheon.

to Organize Student Government

Elected student council representatives meet twice a month in the activity room.

QUEEN ELAINE WILSON

Adding a festive touch to the initial activity of the 64-65 year is the homecoming court — Tom Turner, Jeanette Trice, Queen Elaine Wilson, Dick Thomas, Betsy Paddon and Cliff Amos.

The Election, Crowning and Dance Are Signs of Homecoming Week

Stepping from open convertibles, Homecoming r o y a l t y walked onto the gridiron between camera flashes and rows of r i b b o n for the crowning ceremony. The crowning and dance the following night climaxed a week of petition signing, voting and anticipation.

Georgia Baughman, Boosters president, places the crown on Elaine Wilson under the observance of Louis Schwartz. Mark Baughman was crown bearer and Carol Gentithes was flower girl.

QUEEN MAJA BOSSHARDT

Highlighting the Royal Ecstasy court are Leslie DeFore, Dave Binko, Barbara Newell, Clifton Amos, Betsy Paddon, Joseph Spahr, Queen Maja Bosshardt, Harvey Apple, Leslie Armstrong, Dave Varner, Delphine Davenport, Janet Baker and Mark Robison.

"Royal Ecstasy" Regally Sets Theme For Coronation Ball

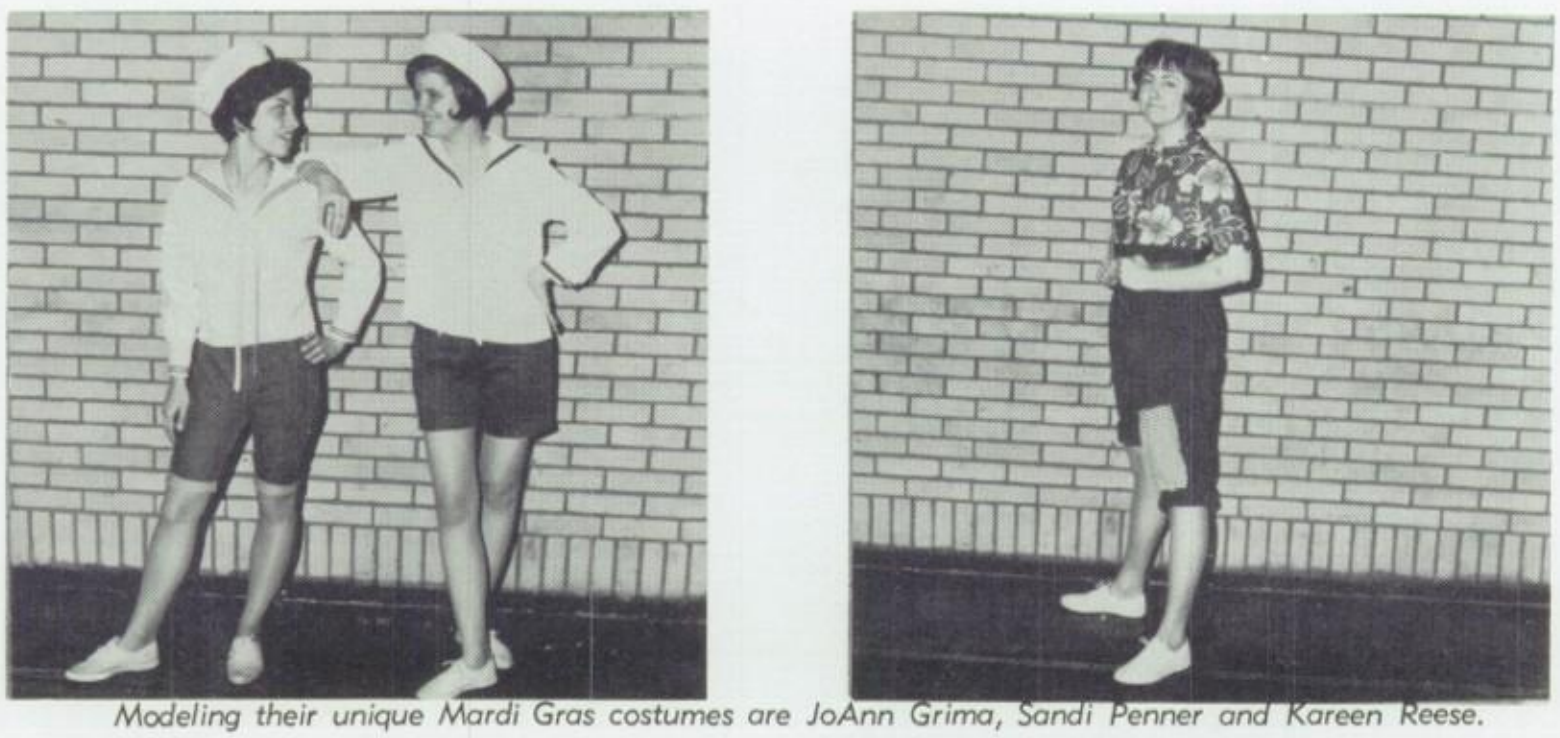
Pep rallies, bonfires, decorating the cafeteria and hanging signs for each game are Pep Club projects. Officers are — Harvey Apple, 1; Jan Simons, 2; Sue Sharrits, 3; Ruth Hipple, 4; Mrs. Retterer, 5; Mr. McCoy, 5.

Petite Swiss charmer, Maja Bosshardt enjoyed the experience of being elected Coronation Ball queen. Smiling beneath the purple and gold array, Maja graciously accepted the crown from Harvey Apple, president of Pep Club, which annually sponsors the ball. Maja can happily recall this highlight of her visit in the United States.

REX FULLY SPAIN

Rex Fully and Regina Martha lead off the first dance as the court, Fred Mills, Ricky Flemming, Larry Levine, Darrel Miller, Cindy Flemming and Marjorie Hickerson, look on.

REGINA MARTHA STEVENS



Modeling their unique Mardi Gras costumes are JoAnn Grima, Sandi Penner and Kareen Reese.

QUEEN ANNA ABRUZZO

Smiling on the fantasy of Spring is the May Court — Tom Turner, Gwen Thomas, Queen Anna Abruzzo, Matthew Klenovic, Betsy Paddon, Anthony Marshalek, Molly Molloy, flower girl; and Craig Rogers, crown bearer.

"Somewhere Over the Rainbow" Highlights Spring Festivities

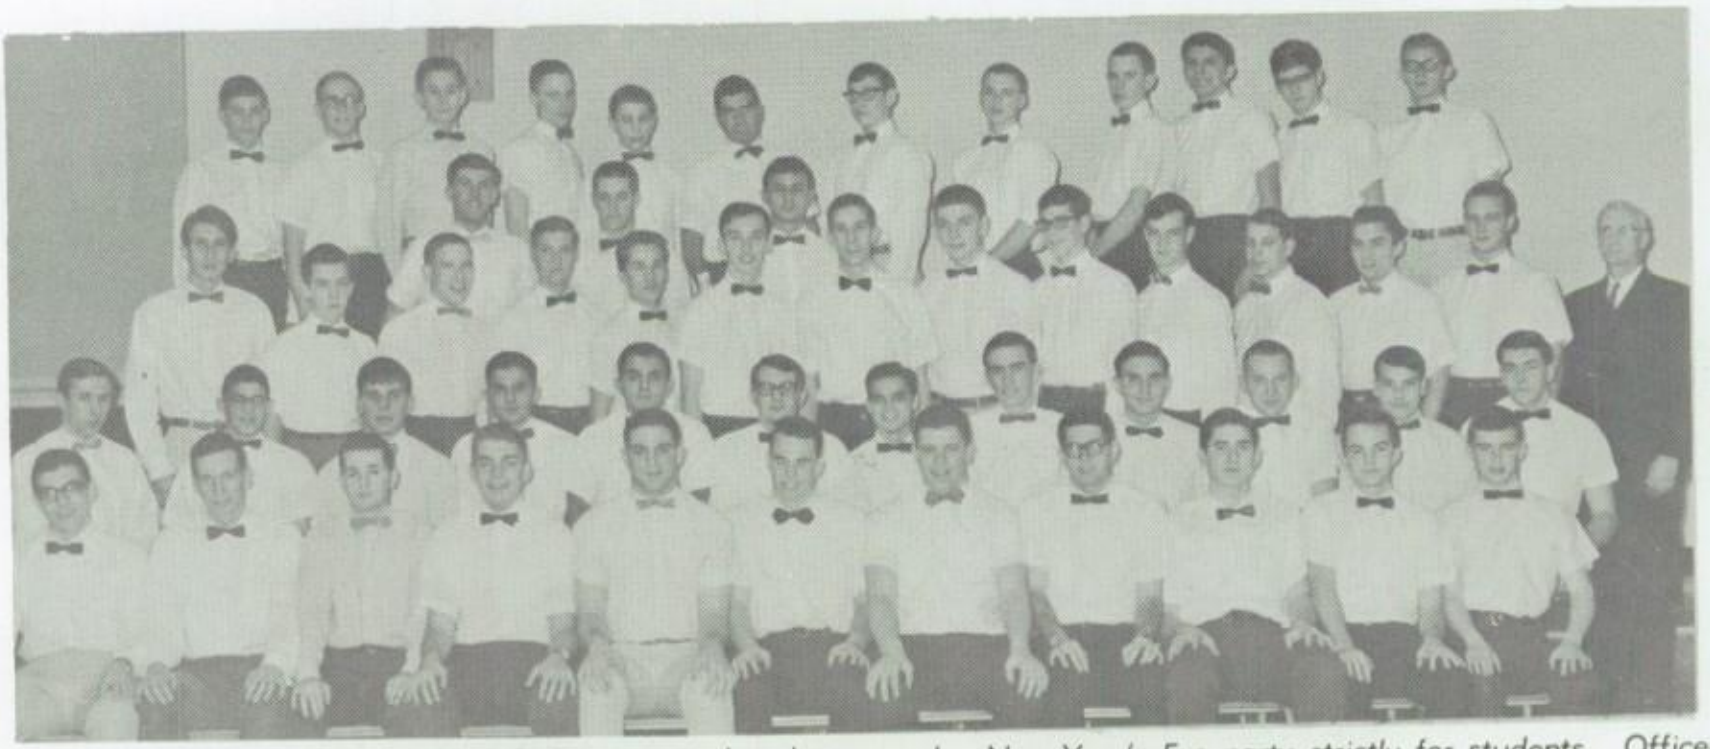
'Wizard of Oz' fantasy lends an enchanting atmosphere to the initial spring activity.

Queen Anna Abruzzo smiles into the eyes of her escort, Matt Klenovic, as they lead off the first dance.

Community Service and Safety are

Safety Council became an independent organization and attended the national safety convention in Colorado. Officers are — Sue Sharrits, 1; Ruth Hipple, 2; Sandi Penner, 3; Jo Ann Grima, 4; Mr. Carbaugh, 5; Mr. Andes, 5.

High Goals for Organizations



Key Club, sponsored by Kiwanis Club, organized and promoted a New Year's Eve party strictly for students. Officers are — Milton Baughman, 1; Roger Shively, 2; Douglas Rogers, 3; Jerome Tabacca, 4; Mr. Carleton, 5.

Whether it be on the football field or basketball court, in the pool or on the track, Warren lettermen are on top. Officers are — Roger Shively, 1; Bob Darno, 2; Jane Kutz, 3; Mr. Koppel, 5.

Harding Athletes and Cheerleaders Raise School Spirit, Strive for Victory

Leading a chant are Jan Simons, Martha Stevens, Bobbi Lou Isler, Phyllis Edwards, Jane Kutz, Joeen Moore and Barbara Mandrick.

John Rice lovingly takes the hand of his Vicky, Sandi Penner, from a scene in 'Victoria Regina.'

Victoria, Sandi Penner, casts a meaningful look at Alana Boyle as she accepts a rose from Albert, John Rice.

Dramatics Club Reveals New Talent in Successful Productions

Dramatics Club provides a theatrical outlet for interested students. Plays are enacted, scenery is painted and costumes and props are collected by members. Officers are — Steve Beckenholdt, 1; John Rice, 2; Linda Diamondstein, 3; Kathie Ziesser, 4; Miss Kelly, 5; Mr. Backus, 5.

Members of Speakers Bureau recite in unison for the annual Veterans' Day Assembly.

Conducting devotions and daily announcements are the activities of Speakers Bureau. Officers are Mickey Dowdell, 1; John Rice, 2; Alana Boyle, 3; Marilyn Malarchik. 4.

Annually members of Speakers' Bureau, directed by Miss Augusta Barrick, promote the observance of Veterans' Day by organizing an assembly. The A Cappella choir sings and individuals enact patriotic scenes. At left is pictured Kathie Ziesser, portraying Betsy Ross with the first flag.

Barbara Heron brings demands for an encore from Frolics audiences.

"Where or When" Lends Itself Easily to the Many Phases of Frolics Talent

Maja Bosshardt and Sue Daugherty enact 'Mardi Gras Ballet'.

'Merry Mariners' are Leslie Armstrong and Betsy Paddon.

Gathered together, many for the very last time, the frolics cast sings their theme song 'Where or When'.

Costumed seniors display amazing acrobatic talents.

The latest hits are sung by the Casuals.

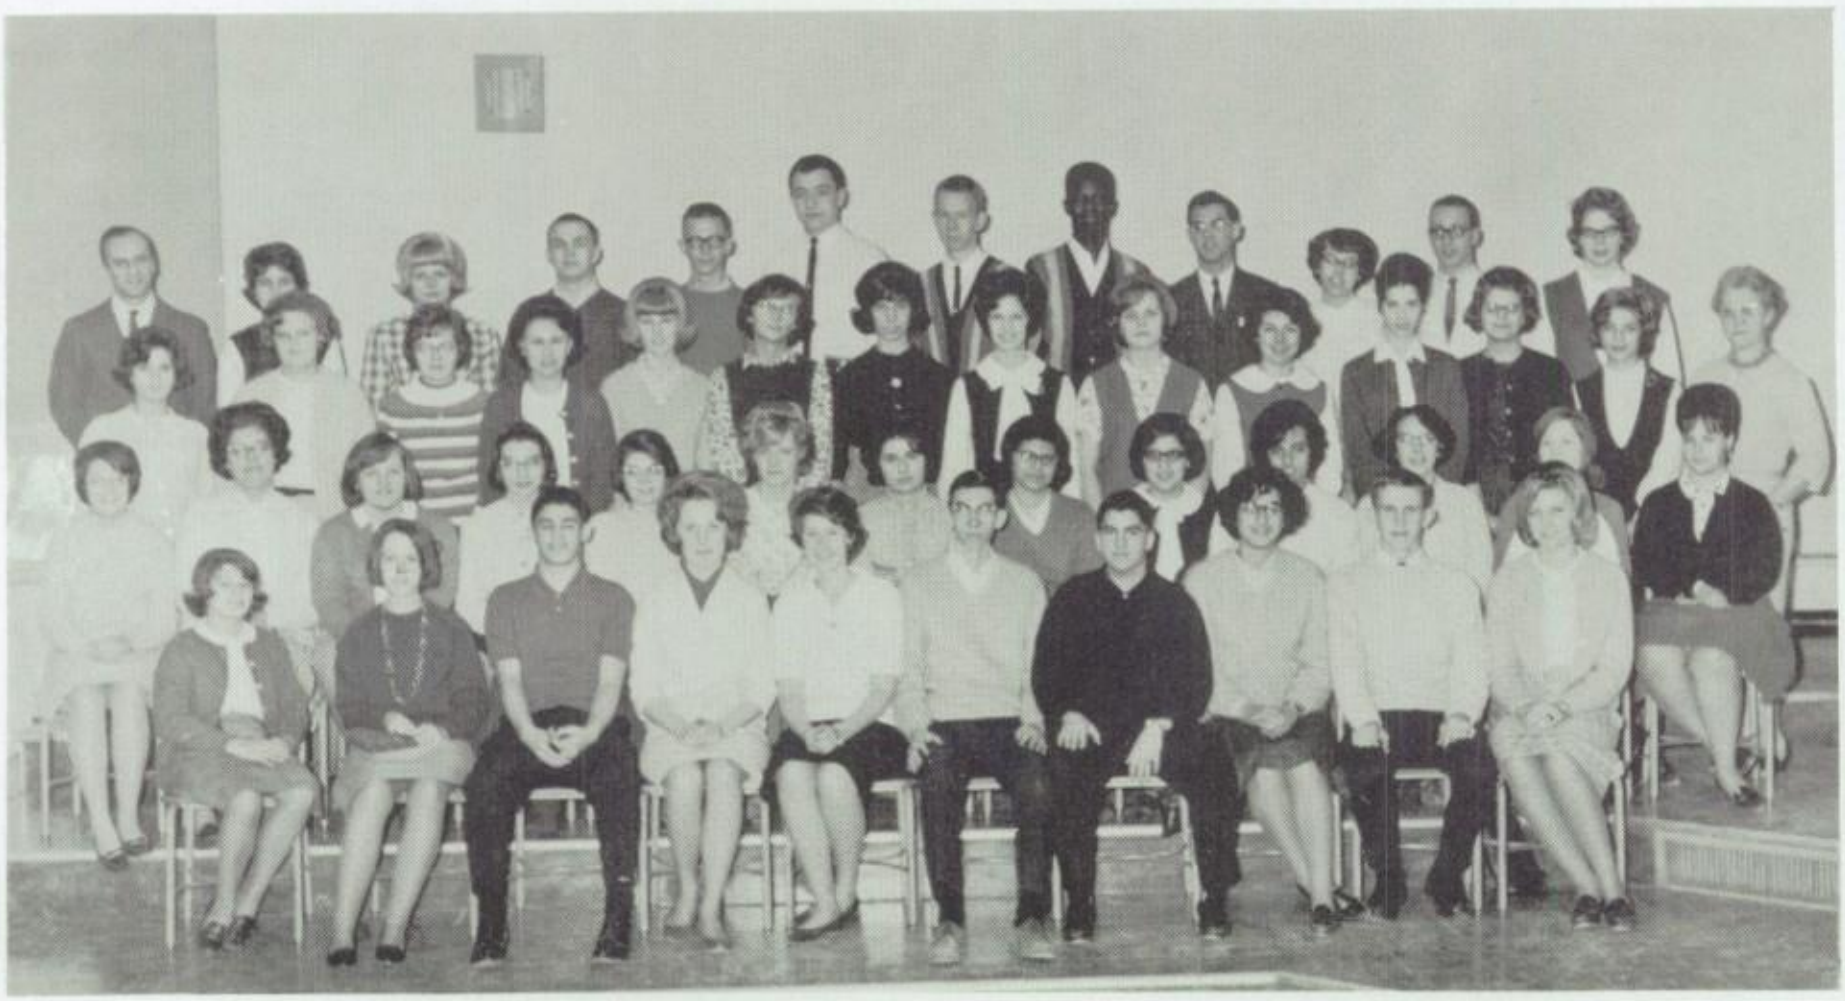
Hi-Eco-Sy Developes Government Skills



Excitement, happiness and disappointment are the mixed emotions that accompany a National Honor Society assembly. Anxiety grows as old members leave the stage to perform the traditional tapping ceremony. This is the climax for months spent averaging class ranks and voting on prospective members. Selections are based on scholarship, leadership, character and service.

Hi-Eco-Sy promotes a general interest in the government and politics students will have to take over. It furthers the training of tomorrows leaders by taking over the city offices for a day. The mechanics of the voting booth are introduced and learned by students in social science classes.

Peggy Leon is instructed in the use of voting machines for the students' mock election while Rachel Henderson and Carolyn Fury look on.

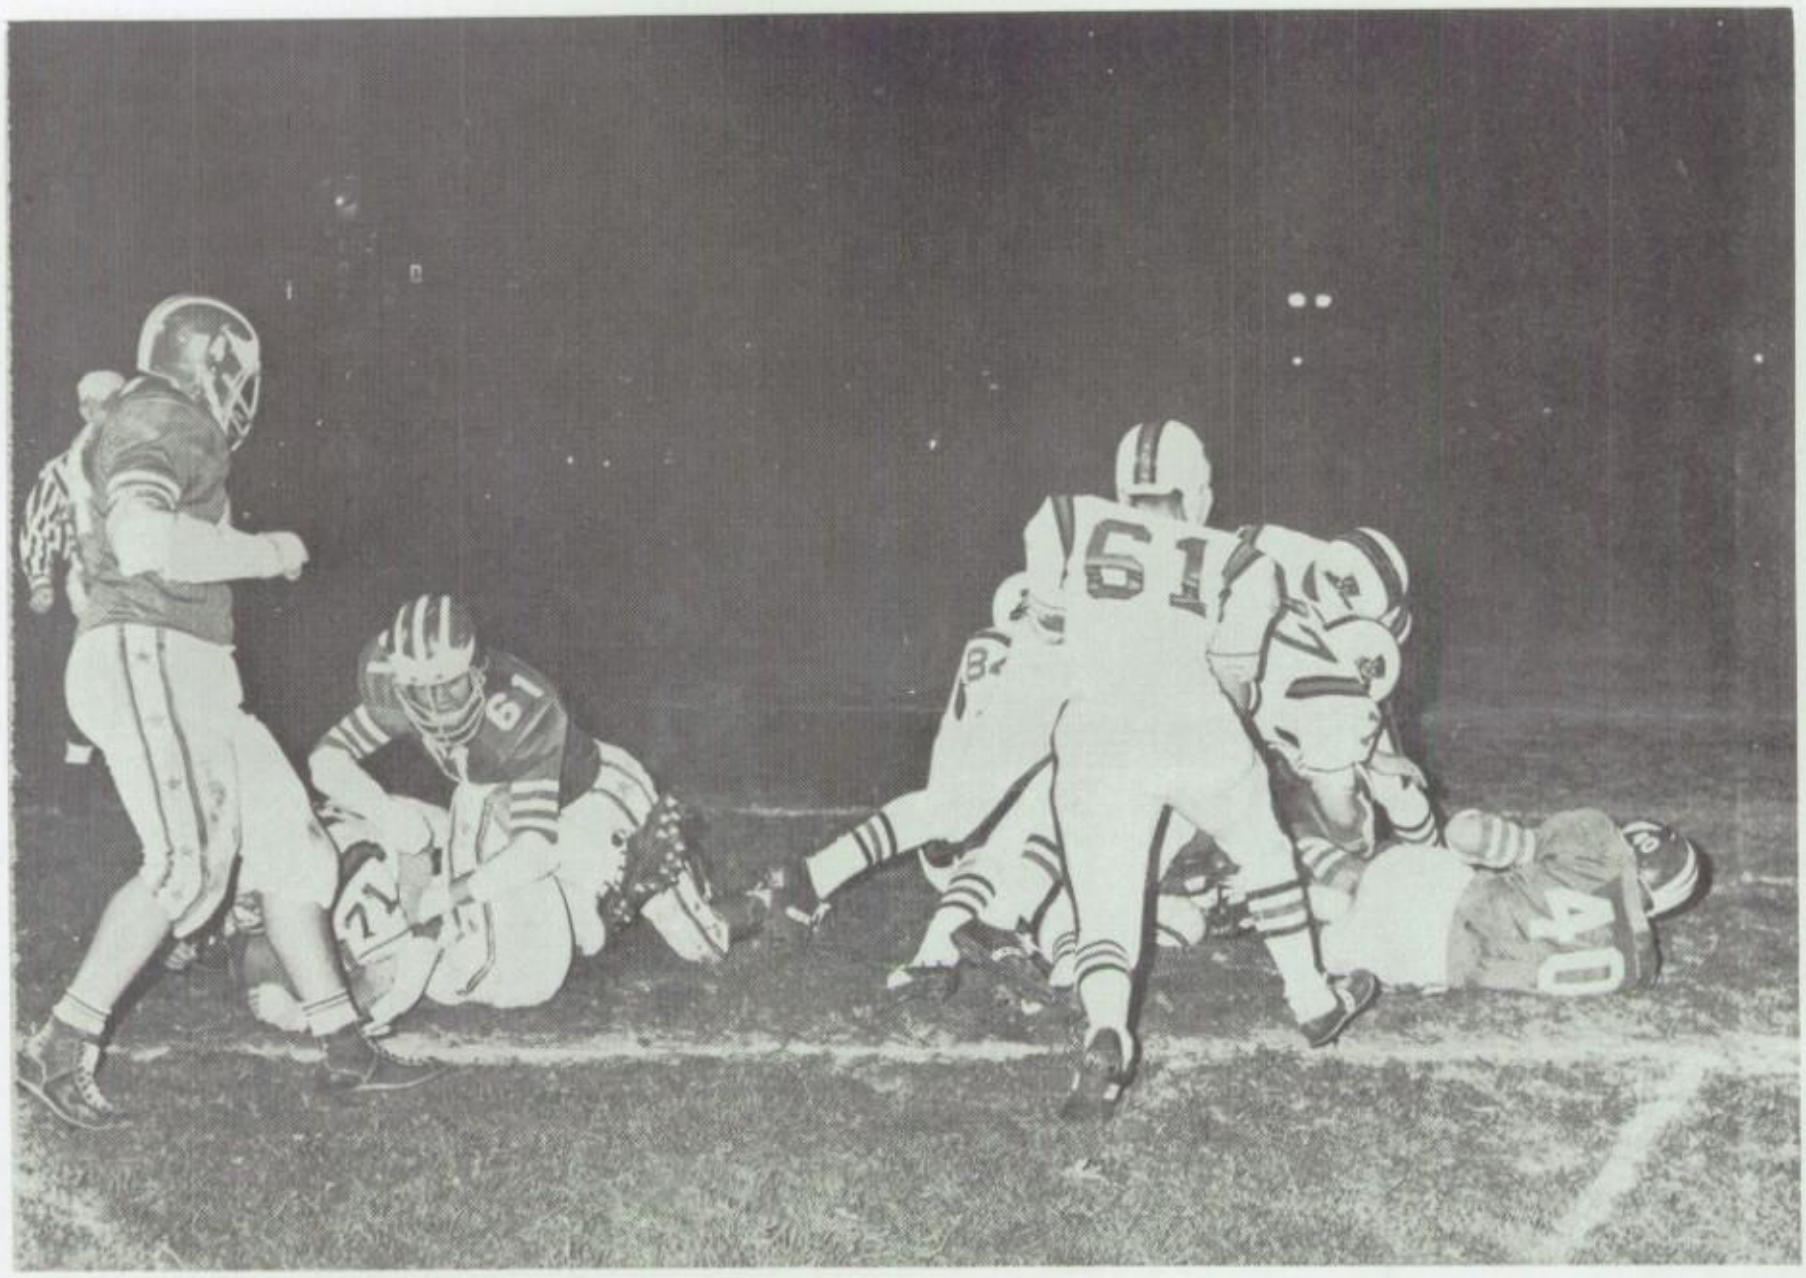
Panther Juggernaut Yield Mediocre Season



Preventing Niles from cracking the scoring barrier, in a fine goal line stance, Ed Johnson aids in the defensive effort.

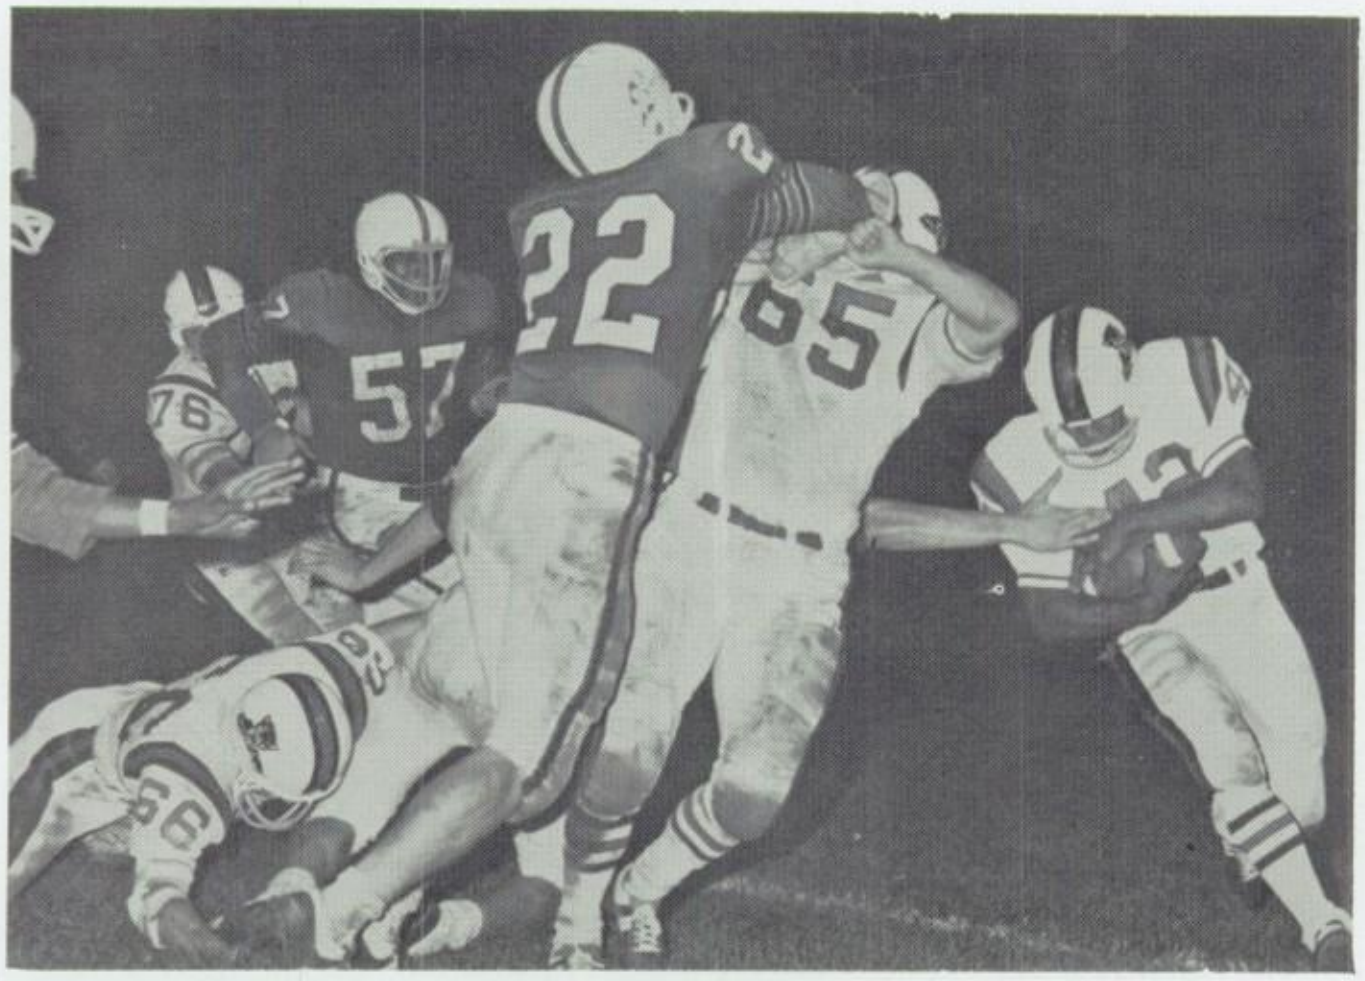
An energetic squad gave their all to the rough competition of the 1964 football season. Keeping the standards high and coming through with a final record of 6-3-1, the Wilsonmen finished a year of which we can all be proud.

The fighting spirit of the Panthers in their first contest of the season with Cleveland John Adams resulted in a crushing 34 to 8 victory. A change of pace took place at Canton as the Bulldogs reversed the columns and won 34 to 8.

Bouncing back from the Canton defeat, the Panthers downed Bedford Chanel 16 to 6. Out for their third win in four starts, the Panthers overpowered Akron South, 44 to 6.

Hard-hitting Dave Binko is encased by aggressors.

Cooperation, Determined Effort and Competition Emerge



An outstreached hand vainly attempts to stop Charlie Rounds while Mike Rocca and Frank Montagna battle opponents.

Established alertness enables the Panther defensive unit to halt Canton's powerful fullback.

Ups and Downs Mark Gridiron Action

All of our backfield men were able to make substantial yardage in our fifth start, trouncing Muskegon 38 to 0. Alliance was a prime target as the Panthers invaded and emerged victorious, 18 to 14.

Akron Garfield stifled high hopes of five in a row, with a 16 to 16 deadlock. The Massillon Tigers were held to their lowest scoring effort of the year as they toppled us, 12 to 0.

In a fine comeback from their Massillon defeat, the Panthers blanked Steubenville Big Red to the tune of 20 to 0. Friday the thirteenth proved unlucky for the Panthers, who bowed to the mighty Niles Red Dragons 26 to 0. Losses to the top three teams in the state marred the season for the Panthers, ending with a 6-3-1 record.

Serious expressions enhance the bench as eagerness to get into the game flows fluently.

Ron Zombar grapples for position against dominant Beaver.

Harding grapplers were thrown back in their intentions of carrying out a successful season. Under the experienced hands of Coach Jeffreys, the matmen pulled together to arrive at their goal, but the way was clogged by pinpoint formalities .Individual efforts were outstanding. Although our Panthers were ready for all oncomers, the competition seemed to great to overide. In the season wrap-up, the grapplers came out on the low end with a 3 and 8 finish. Prospects for next years matmen prove to be very encouraging, and Coach Jeffreys hopes for a better year.

Individual Runners Lead Team

The Panthers Cross Country squad, pulling out of an over-all team slump, managed to end their season with a clear-cut 5 and 4 record. This sport, being the one which tends to spark individuality instead of entire team greatness, has kept on with its traditional habits. Paced by both Jack Hoyt and Walt Warren, who both attained gold medals in the district meet, our cross countrymen managed to offset most of Harding's traditional rivals. An example of this can be seen through our clashes with such teams as Liberty, Howland. Leavittsburg, and Boardman. Under the coaching of Coach Gysegem, and the strenuaus fortitude of the members composing the cross country squad, a season record of this caliber can well be honored. A great deal of credit must go to the athletes on the team, for through them lies the spirit of Harding's sportsmanship.

Alertness Prevails In Cage Tilts

The Panther Cagers, showing a fine spirit of attack and defensive momentum, drove forward under their new varsity coach, Jack Gysegem. The talent of two returning lettermen and the brilliant performance of fast-rising sophomores helped the courtmen finish a successful season.

The first game of the year was a heartbreaker, as Warren went down to defeat at the hands of Sharon, 58 to 50. The following week Cardinal Mooney and East Liverpool were soundly trounced by the scores of 71 to 56 and 76 to 46 respectively.

Massillon proved to be a stumbling block once again as they stopped the Panthers by the very slim margin, 62 to 59; Farrell fell as a victim of revenge when they were stopped 73 to 59. Our cagers came back, but time ran out as Boardman clinched it, 91 to 76.

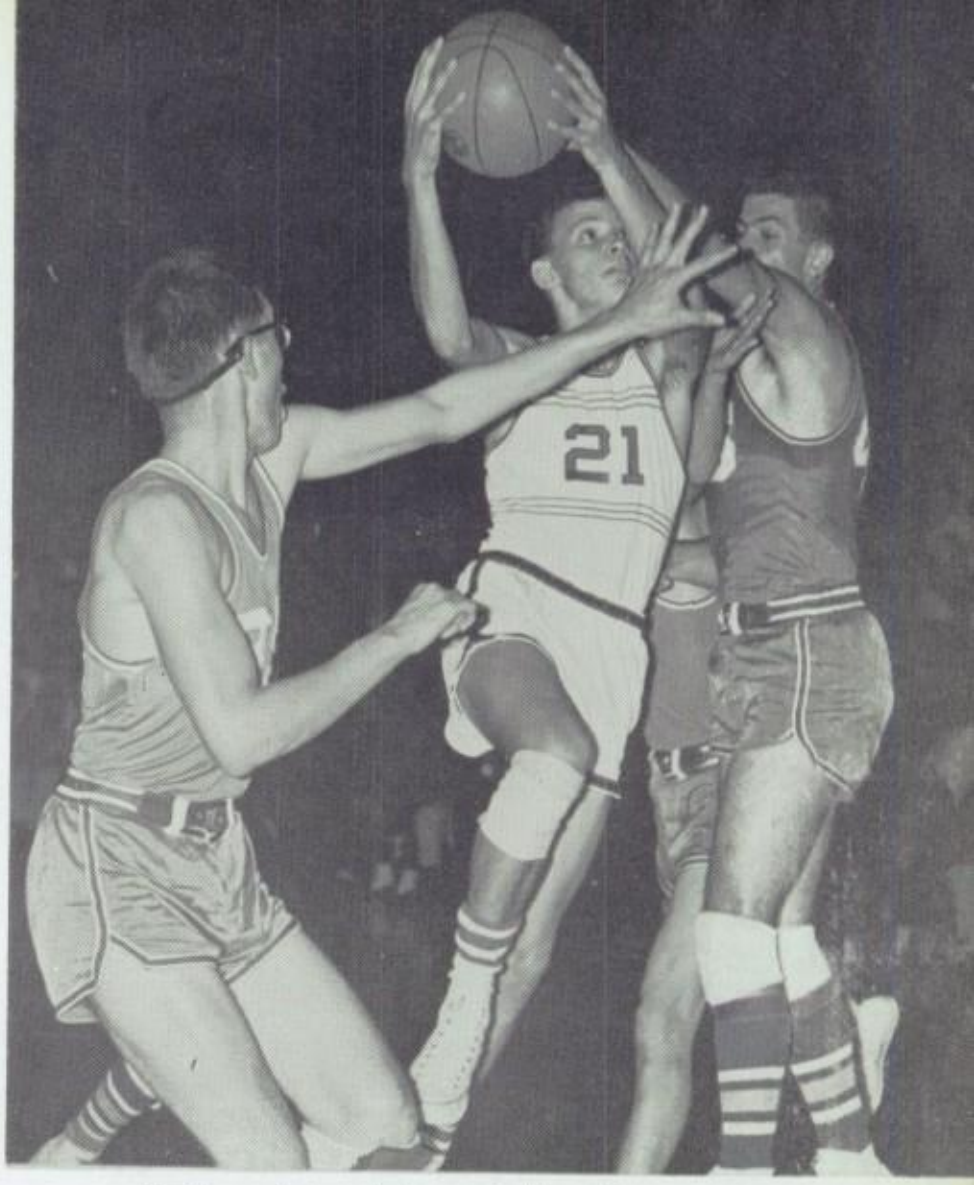
Struthers was hosted and beaten by the Panthers in the first game of the new year, which ended 91 to 34. Canton Lehman also fell by the wayside as they were edged 56 to 55 in a tight battle. Against Canton McKinley, hopes fell as the game progressed. The Bulldogs ended the contest with a neat twenty point margin, 59 to 39.

Salem was conquered easily as the Panthers thirsted for revenge, finding it in a 56 to 46 victory. After a ten point margin of victory in their last contest, the Panthers dropped a 71 to 61 decision to Akron Hoban.



Striving forward toward his ultimate objective, Dave Thomas battles rivals.

Frank Strother eyes the competition as he drives down court to help carry the Warren team to victory.

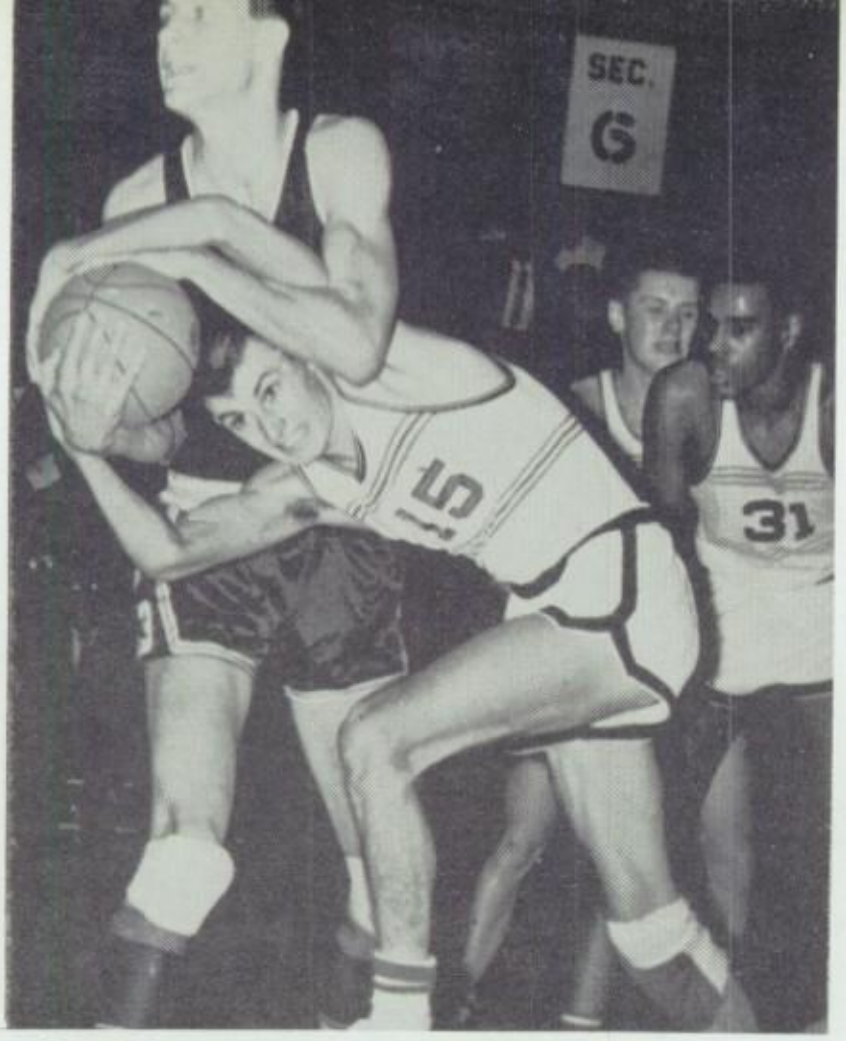
Starting a winning s t r e a k with Youngstown South, the cagers ripped past them 83 to 63. The Panthers were beginning to click. Girard fell next by the score of 74 to 47. After that, Steubenville and Cuyahoga Falls met defeats with tilts of 70 to 68 and 67 to 61 respectively. The last three regular season games went as easily as the preceeding three. Clawing their way to a successful year, our courtmen cut down Alliance 58 to 41, halted the fine Canton Timkin team 77 to 67, and trounced our arch rival Niles into the floorboards with a tally of 77 to 59.

In tournament play, our first opponent was Cardinal Mooney. Warren took advantage of ball possession and racked up a 75 to 64 win. In contention for the sectional crown, Warren battled Austintown Fitch, and won it in a real cliffhanger ending 63 to 61. With the sectional under our belt, we entered the district, facing a tough Youngstown Chaney squad. In another nip-and-tuck contest our Panthers ran out of precious t i m e and dropped it 52 to 51. For the complete season tally, Coach Gysegem came out with an excellent 16 and 6 record, in his first year as head coach.



Dick Thomas reveals surging desire for possession.

Swim Team Shows Varied Skills

The 1964-65 Panther Swimming team ran into difficulties as they were confronted with teams that had muuh more in depth. Limited to only a small number of boys, as opposed to many squads that held three times our number, the Panthers became quite condensed in their attacks. Sparked individuality is not uncommon in this type of sport, and so it was with our boys. Two of the top tankers, Ken Montgomery and All-American Steve Job, are prime examples of this fact. Still bracketed among the strong forces in the state, our watermen, led by Coach Moore, hit high current as they finished with a 2 and 9 record. The team looks promising for next year, and in agreement with Coach Moore, with a few more boys and private practicing area, no one in the state could touch them.

Warren, with a six and three record, finished fourth out of ten teams participating in the Mahoning Valley league.

The Panther tennis team came out of the 1964 season with an admirable and well-earned. With the coaching asisstance of Mr. Marcarello, and under unfavorable parcticing conditions, the team put out an astounding effort. Through team work and accelerated individual contributions, the Panther hand crushed its foes. Ending last year with a 6 and 3 record provided the needed incentive for this year's squad to press toward an even greater finish. From the hands of the returning lettermen, and the prospective sophomore strength, the 1965 season should prove to be a most vigorous and sucessful one.

Consistant Pitching Induces Triumph For Shuff's Diamondmen

Mr. Shuff, coach of the 1964 baseball team, drove the diamondmen to a peak of readiness, as they compounded their efforts to attain a 14 and 5 season. Dealing with outstanding pitching abilities, and fine fieldmanship, the Panthers surcame the toughest of foes. With pitchers like Brian Kochunas and Al Isler who contributed no hitters and one hitters, and 16 strike outs in one game respectively, one can readily see why the Panthers were feared by their less powerful opponents.

With excellent tempering by Coach Koppel, the Panther golf team surged to a fine record for both league matches and non-league matches. In the contests that constituted league play, the linkmen rallied to a 7 and 1 season, while capturing four wins along with only one loss in their non-league matches. The only teams to overpower the Panther golfers were Brookfield in our first league match, and Youngstown Mooney in the non-league section. With the power of returning lettermen and knowledge of our opponents' strength, the linkmen tallied a final season record, combining both sets of matches, of 11 and 2. The 1965 golf team looks even more promising than last year's, as lettermen still enhance our squad.

Strenuous Work Along With Conscientious Studying Brings Foremost Honors to These Top Ten Students

The smiles on the faces of these ten scholars — ranking academically at the top of the senior class — give only the slightest indication of their personal satisfaction and ineffable p r i d e. They chose various courses which they w o u l d need for diversified occupations; no matter what the subject, they adapted themselves and succeeded in it. Standing are Frank Tsantes, Linda Cross, Connie Hipple, Ruth Hipple, Linda Bidlack, and Jerome Krempasky. Sitting around the table are Arlene Uveges, Dianna Cox, Lynnette Robb, and Cynthia Gentithes. These honor students will deliver important messages at commencement — this has become school tradition — and will be given the opportunity to display their intellect.

Senior Class Officers Carry Large Responsibility

Senior class officers coordinate functions between their colleagues and the faculty sponsors. Self-determination and control keep these four on the move. Secretary, Phyllis Edwards and treasurer, Jane Kutz show that it isn't always self-discipine that sets Doug Rogers, president, and Harvey Apple, vice-president into motion. Regulating schedules, planning programs, handling correspondence, and giving necessary information to classmates fall into the realm of officer duty.

What's the word gang? Under the organization of Tom Trimbur, Jane Kutz, and Harvey Apple, captain, blue stepped into the winners circle. The mascot was none other than Blue Winkle, portrayed by Harvey Johnson.

Three Competitive Teams Make Selling Enjoyable

During the three years at Harding, senior students have joined many extra-curricular organiations. These activities required a great deal of individual time. There were times when everything seemed lost in the confusion of loaded schedules, but in the end, sponsors and students alike enjoyed themselves.

Girls will forever remember that first date with "the" boy . . . the big dance when he gave her that beautiful corsage, which she pressed between two books . . . and the senor prom with that fabulous dress, which took all the money she had saved.

Boys could never forget the first big football game . . . the girl to whom he gave his ring . . . nor the money he would have, if he had stayed at home on weekends.

Just as Ted Plevyak, the Jolly Green Giant, shows his strength to Jerry Tabacca, Frank Tsantes, captain, and Frank Caputo, so green showed its strength by selling the second highest number of activity tickets.

The Red Devil, Fully Spain, drags in behind as red sells the least number of tickets. Danny DeSantis, Dave Helman, captain, and Doug Rogers only needed more team drive.

Jurors, Ted Plevyak and Pat Schneider, have studied intently the evidence of Romaine, Nancy Cervenak, the chief witness for the prosecution. Clerk, Steve Russ, notes everything said; and Judge, Gary Motteram, listens to the inspector, Gary Darbey, who is at present giving his testimony. Sitting at defense table is Attorney Mayhew, Tom Engstorm, defendant Jim Minard, defense attorney, John Barhoover, who contemplates the evidence being given, and Carter, Harvey Johnson. Assistant prosecutor, Dan DeSantis, and prosecutor, Sam Listiak believe they have already won their case. Standing at the door is policeman, Steve Beckenholdt. Play gave opportunity for these seniors to display their dramatic talents.

"Witness For The Prosecution" Gives Profits To Seniors

"Today we are on the threshold of success; tomorrow success is ours." So reads the motto of the graduating class of 1965. The carnation, which is the class flower, and the gowns of powder blue and navy, class colors, will merely symbolie at commencement the long, hard struggle made to comply with the motto.

Maturitf marks the character of a senior. He is willing to relinquish some of his amusements upon realizing the responsibility which the adult world has handed him. Vigor describs the way in which he attacks his problems.

Defense counsel, John Barhoover, bows to prosecuting attorney, Sam Listiak, and judge, Gary Motteram, just after having torn apart the evidence produced against his client. A not guilty verdict was secured.

Memories and Unseverable Connections With Old Acquaintances

Students complain about school and homework for evelen and a half years. However, a remarkable change occurs when we are graduating from high school. Actually it is the profound realization of the slippage of time. We have sped along through our everyday courses in our everyday manner, and suddenly we find the time has all expired.

We look over our school years and examine what we have accomplished. We try to crowd all that we should have had into those last few tormenting months, but all to no avail.

Our childhood is finished, and we are looking to the future with a fresh outlook and hopeful encouragement. The anxiety of leaving everything to which we have grown accustomed must be buried deep within our hearts and covered securely by joyous spirits.

All is not as melancholy as we seem to believe. By puting our past in the back of our conscience, we will be able to focus our attention on our prospective endeavors.

Under the leadership of these seniors, the various school organizations have expanded and progressed. THIRD ROW: Roger Shively, Lettermen; Darrel Miller, French; Carl Manofsky, Band; Jack Swinehart, National Honor Society; Harvey Apple, Pep Club; Frank Tsantes, Echoes; Doug Rogers, Senior Class; Ted Plevyak, Service. SECOND ROW: John Rice, Thespians; Louis Schwartz, Student Council; Janis Reed, Hi-Eco-Sy; Sue Sharrits, Safety Council; Marjorie Bauman, German; Georgia Baughman, Boosters; Milt Baughman, Key Club; Dave Helman, Treannin; Steve Beckenholdt, Dramatics. FRONT ROW: Brenda Goswick, G.A.A.; Elaine Wilson. F.B.L.A.; Helen Miller, High Life; Esther White, Cauldron.

School life would prove to be quite dull if it wasn't accentuated with a touch of beauty. Who could supply this needed glamour except Anna Abruzzo, Spring Festival; Jan Simons, Y-Teens; Maja Bosshardt, Coronation 1965; Elaine Wilson, Homecoming; Martha Stevens, Mardi Gras; and Jane Kutz, Coronation 1964. Elected queen, each girl reigned one night over the students.

The emptiness in our lives was once filled by an indifferent sophomore year, a rolicking junior year, and a dynamic senior year. Now, the emptiness returns as we leave the halls of Harding, and the finality of our leaving will never be overcome.

DOWNS STUDIO
GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

In July, 1915 Downs Studio opened for business on Main Street in Warren, Ohio.

In the Fall of 1915 H. G. Downs initiated the practice of taking individual Portrait Settings of Warren high school seniors, instead of one large group picture as had been done previously.

Each year for 50 years Downs Studio has made graduation pictures for Harding Seniors.

H G Downs '65

- Downs Studio specializes in producing finest quality graduation portraits in Black and White, Sepia Tone, Oil Color, and "Living Color."
- Our exceptionally low prices are made possible because of the large number of graduates we photograph each year.

Echoes Staff Strives For Deadlines

Taking a quiet break are photographers, (seated) John Vitello, John Gabele, Jim Ewing and David Metzendorf.

Picture layouts for the advertising section are planned and pasted by Susan Trinkall, subscription manger, and Pete Burns.

Sport section staffers Ted Plevyak and Gary Darbey write copy and captions to accompany their pictures.

Seventh period Echoes' staff members prepare the necessary copy to supplement the senior section.

Echoes' advisor Mr. Augenstein and editor Frank Tsantes confer upon essential publication decisions.
